Quality Improvement System

ABOUT COLLECTIVE FOR YOUTH

Collective for Youth's program improvement process begins with an assessment that builds on youth professionals' existing strengths and identifies areas needing improvement. A plan is created with goals and clear benchmarks and followed up with coaching support and specific trainings for staff.

Collective for Youth helps organizations implement an assess-plan-improve sequence that establishes a quality improvement system for program sites and youth professionals. Youth professionals are then able to attend interactive and hands-on trainings that align with their improvement plan. This continuous improvement process is repeated throughout the year.
